Good morning Anita,

Many thanks for forwarding this website for our review. The following comments are provided on behalf of the Drugs and Firearms Section.

Recognising that the content of the website is still under construction, I am of the opinion that the end result could be of considerable value. The only concern I have, and raised by a member of the Firearms Policy Working Group (comprised of representatives from each of the States and Territories – to whom your email was also forwarded for review) is that some of the information for Australia is slightly out of date. Given the Australian Government (through AusAID) are sponsors of the new site, I would suggest consideration be given to ensuring that we are able to provide accurate and up-to-date information or assist in sourcing such information.

10/9/2010

Kind regards,

Brooke
