Indonesia is a close neighbour and a partner of first order importance – as reaffirmed by the Foreign Policy White Paper. A prosperous, stable and growing Indonesia is good for regional stability, security, trade and cooperation. Australia works with Indonesia to target the fundamental constraints to its growth and poverty reduction.

Strategic direction

Australia’s development assistance to Indonesia helps accelerate economic growth and stability by improving competitiveness and strengthening the impact of Indonesia’s resources. Our economic partnership with Indonesia has three key objectives:

- effective economic institutions and infrastructure;
- human development for a productive and healthy society; and
- an inclusive society through effective governance.

Our work in Indonesia contributes to achieving the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). We do this by: improving the lives of poor women through increased access to jobs, social protection programs and improved conditions for overseas work; improved access to water and sanitation and infrastructure; and promoting inclusive growth by increasing incomes for smallholder farmers.

Program highlights

In 2017-18, Australia helped:

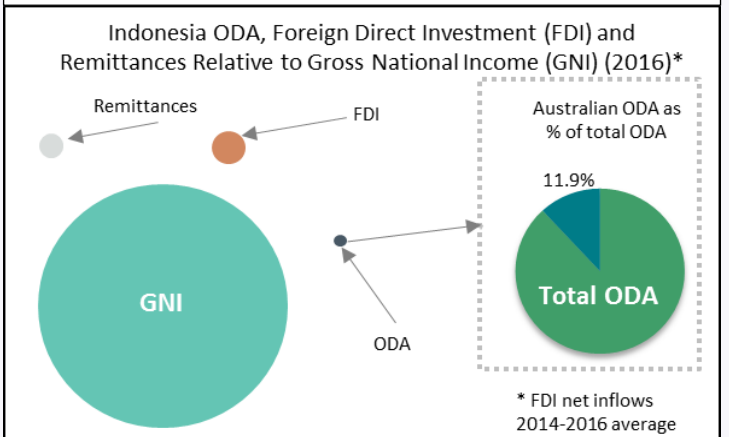

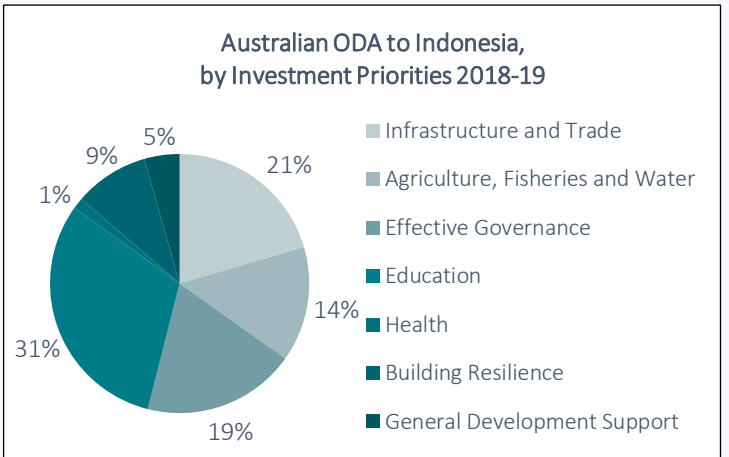

- Indonesia attract approximately AUD550 million in new infrastructure investment through asset securitisation;
- 295,000 Indonesians access improved water and basic sanitation;
- Indonesians access over 54,000 identity documents – a critical first step in accessing government services;
- 1.2 million Indonesian families access a new food assistance program;
- improve the allocation of Indonesia’s AUD9.3 billion Village Fund, benefiting Indonesia’s poorest regions;
- enable more than 30,000 women to contribute to policy and decision making in their communities; and
- an additional 104,534 farm households to increase their incomes, by an average of 191 per cent.
